Woman Kills Son, Sentenced To Pen

Efforts of Boy to Admit Crime Fails to Save Gotham Mother

NEW YORK.—(AP)—Despite the attempt of a 23-year-old son to save his mother by confessing the crime with which she was charged, Mrs. Anna De Hall was sentenced Tuesday to 25 years imprisonment for the slaying of another son.

The gray and slightly bent woman of 54 was convicted of having slashed the throat of her boy, Salvatore, 16, as he lay asleep in their home November 24, 1930.

Michael Filosa, a half-brother of the victim, in his effort to shoulder the blame, volunteered a story of having committed the killing while walking in his sleep.

When Mrs. De Hall was brought before County Judge Alonzo McLaughlin Tuesday, she at first was silent, but soon burst into hysterical screams.

It took two court attendants to quiet her long enough for Judge McLaughlin to inform her that she must spend at least 20 years of her life in prison for murder in the second degree and an additional sentence of five to 10 years on a separate conviction for carrying dangerous weapons.

Mrs. De Hall was taken away at once to begin her sentence.

He was tried and convicted before the authorities began to be suspicious. County Judge Taylor ordered an investigation before sentencing Filosa.

A number of flaws in his story were brought to light. Confronted with them, he broke down and confessed he had admitted the crime to save his mother.

Misses Marie Hilebrand, Bluff City; Katherine Blakely, Cale; Bessie Luck, Rossion; Myrtis Calhoun, Mt. Moriah; Maxine Martin, Laneburg; Ora Faye Andrews, Sutton; Faye Hood, Emma; Rosa Lee Snell, Emmet; Elizabeth Cummings, Elizabeth Brooks, Elizabeth Cantley, Lucy Le Montgomery, all of Prescott.

Miller county's maid will be announced late Wednesday from Texarkana, completing the list.

All six maids will go on review at the Saenger theater in Hope Thursday night, when one of them will be selected queen, by out-of-town judges.

M'Donald Presents Economy Program Before Parliament

Will Reach Debate Stage Friday According to Announcement

OPPOSED BY LABOR
Other Countries Join in Budget Reduction in Economy Move

LONDON.—(AP)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, getting down to the business of forcing his economy program through parliament Wednesday presented to the house of commons a national economy bill which would empower the cabinet to govern by orders in the council issued by the king without the sanction of parliament.

He explained none of its provisions and the house passed it on the formal first reading.

On Friday it will reach the debate stage and the labor party will marshal their strongest opposition.

Big Reduction Made By ALVIN HALLMAN

LONDON.—(AP)—Twin problems of rigorous economy and social relief face most of the governments of the world as a consequence of the unparalleled economic blizzard which has hit the weak and strong alike.

In most countries broad steps have been taken to meet the emergency. In some the stress has been placed on economy, and in others, states new public works are under way as means of creating new employment.

Labor Opposes MacDonald
In Great Britain the financial crisis resulted in supplanting the labor government by one composed of laborites, and liberals and conservatives.

Ramsay MacDonald, premier under the labor regime, continues in office, but the labor party is almost solidly united against his program to cut $500,000,000 from budget expenditures.

In Great Britain's handling of the unemployment problem the stress hereof has been upon the dole, but the fact that the dole has been running into debt at the rate of $5,000,000 weekly has helped bring support to the proposal to cut the dole ten per cent, thus effecting a yearly saving of $332,500,000.

Premier MacDonald insists that the unemployed must bear part of the sacrifice necessary to balance the budget.

Other proposed economies include salary reductions and a curtailment of public works construction to total approximately $482,800,000.

Influencing part of expenses rather than a heavy increase in taxes was (Continued on Page Four)

Only 150 Guards Remain In Etex

500 Guardsmen Are Taken From Area Since Wells Were Reopened

KILGORE, Texas.—(AP)—Enforced conservation of crude oil and gas in the rich East Texas oil field settled down to routine Tuesday with the withdrawal of nearly 500 National Guardsmen. A regulatory force of but 150 militiamen remained to administer the state railroad commission's prohibition order in the 600 square mile area.

Operators of the 1850 wells in the field accepted the will of the railroad commission and limited production from each well to approximately 225 barrels daily. Output of the field, which less than a month ago drove the oil market to disastrous low levels, at last seemed to be regulated in accordance with official decrees.

General Jacob Wolters, commander of the troops enforcing martial law in the field, expected to meet with no resistance in carrying out the railroad commission's orders.

Boy Dislikes School, Sets Fire to Building

LEAKESVILLE, Miss.—(AP)—Hinkle Byrnes, 16-year-old Pleasant Hill schoolboy, didn't want to go to school this month. He set fire to the Pleasant Hill school Monday night, Sheriff A. J. Byrd said Tuesday, and then went home in peace.

Tuesday morning, bloodhounds from Meridian tracked to Hinkle's home. Officers took Hinkle away. He confessed to setting the school afire, the sheriff said, "just because I don't like school."

Sudan Economical Summer Pasture

Arkansas Farmers Begin to Realize the Value of This Forage Crop

"The second test in this study showed that it was not economical to feed grain to cows on good average Sudan grass pasture." The above quotation is taken from the report of work done at the Indiana experiment station and proves what the Arkansas farmers are beginning to realize: that Sudan grass is the pasture crop that insures a normal milk production during the hot weather of July and August.

It is at this time that the grasses in the permanent pasture lots become dead and dry. This causes the milk flow to drop off unless the grain ration is increased.

This condition puts the cows practically on the winter feeding ration, especially so far as the grain is concerned, but with the more general use of Sudan grass during this drought season the summer milk season can be made as profitable as the spring season when the regular pasture plants furnish the succulence so necessary for the cows' use in economical production, states W. H. Woodley, University of Arkansas College of Agriculture, Extension Service.

Scientific Exploration Among Eskimos Related

ROCKLAND, Maine.—(AP)—Commander Donald B. MacMillan returned here by airplane Monday from Labrador after three months of scientific exploration and work among the Eskimos.

He said the most important accomplishment of the expedition was the dental work done among the Indians and Eskimos by Adelbert Fernald, professor of orthodontic research of the dental department, Harvard University. MacMillan said $10,000 of dental supplies were used and clinics established at Hebron, Nain, Hopedale and Makkonik, Labrador.

The explorer said 1500 square miles of heretofore uncharted terrain along the bleak coast was mapped during the summer.

Several Saved as Undertaker Acts Quickly

NASHVILLE, Tenn.—(AP)—To the alertness of Walter Ellis, undertaker's assistant, several persons probably owe their lives.

As Ben E. Waller, 52, was driving three accident victims to a hospital here Monday he died suddenly of a heart attack. Ellis snatched the wheel of the ambulance and brought it to a stop just as it grazed the fender of another car. Both lived in Nolensville.

Mr. and Mrs. Jesse L. Seat and Miss Florine McCord of Chapel Hill were the patients. Miss McCord suffered a fractured skull when Seat ditched his car attempting to avoid hitting some cows. The other two were not badly hurt.

Kidd found it so cold at 6,500 feet that he descended.

Convict Slain in Attempted Break at Utah State Pen

Deputy Warden Locked in Cell House by a Dozen Prisoners

SHOT FROM LADDER
Demand That Warden Be Brought to Cell House Is Refused

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah.—(AP)—One convict, Louis Deatridge, serving a robbery sentence was shot down by a guard in an attempted break at the Utah State Penitentiary Wednesday morning which was frustrated by the refusal of Deputy Warden Wilford F. Giles to obey the orders of a dozen prisoners who held him captive.

Deatridge was shot down by a guard as he was scaling a wall, with a rope ladder.

The deputy warden was freed after Warden R. E. Davis braved the rioters, persuading the mob to free his assistant.

A dozen convicts surrounded Giles when he entered the cell house and demanded that he produce the warden.

President Hoover Praises Red Cross

50th Anniversary Is Celebrated at Danville, N. Y., Wednesday

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—President Hoover turned aside from government business Wednesday to pay tribute to the Red Cross as a part of the celebration of the foundation of the first chapter of that organization at Danville, New York, fifty years ago by Clara Barton.

Speaking over a nationwide hookup Mr. Hoover said the organization proves the ability of democracy to create from the people themselves agencies for their service.

Invitations to the conference were extended to all state governors and mayors of the 15 largest cities and other municipalities where big public projects have been started.

"We believe the Legion will be able to increase employment during the coming winter and also help to outline a program that may be of some permanent benefit during any period of depression."

Walter S. Gifford, national relief director, Tuesday was speeding up his activities with a view to completing his organization this week.

Special Session In State Is Advocated

2000 Express Favor For Long Plan; Governor Is Urged to Call Solons

LITTLE ROCK, Ark.—(AP)—A resolution expressing favor for the cotton holiday plan of Governor Huey P. Long and requesting Governor Farnell to call a special legislative session was adopted here Tuesday at a meeting of some 2000 farmers of Pulaski and Lonoke counties.

Governor Farnell spoke briefly, telling the farmers he was willing to act in their behalf, regardless of his own personal views on the cotton question. He did not say he favored any plan of relief.

R. Brinkley Snowden, Jr., of Memphis, and Sid Y. West, local cotton dealer, spoke in favor of plans other than that advocated by Governor Long, but the farmers appeared restless until the time came to vote on the Long plan.

Snowden advocated his own plan, which he has submitted to the farm board. It provides that the farm board shall hold the cotton it now has on hand, provided farmers agree to cut their acreage next year. The percentage of acreage reduction would govern the amount of cotton the farm board could place on the market next year out of its holdings.

Two Men Are Jailed in Probe of Capital Case

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—(AP)—Henry O. Hart, of West Palm Beach, Fla., and Patrick J. Clancy of Washington, were arrested Monday for Washington authorities.

Police said Hart was formerly confidential agent for G. Bryan Pitts, who was convicted of conspiracy in connection with failure of the Washington securities house of F. H. Smith and company of which he was president. Clancy was said to be a chauffeur.

No charges were placed against Hart and Clancy when they were arrested, police saying they were being held for the department of justice.

Hart was indicted in Washington for conspiring to commit perjury. He was arrested there Saturday and $189,000 worth of bonds were taken from him.

Legion Seeks To Aid Unemployed

Calls Meeting of Officials and Representatives of Various Classes

WASHINGTON.—(AP)—The American Legion Tuesday announced that it has called a conference of governors, mayors and representatives of labor, capital and industry to consider the unemployment problem here September 14.

Ralph T. O'Neill, national commander, said the "full strength and influence" of the Legion would be offered to President Hoover's unemployment relief organization and municipal, state and other governmental agencies.

Invitations to the conference were extended to all state governors and mayors of the 15 largest cities and other municipalities where big public projects have been started.

"We believe the Legion will be able to increase employment during the coming winter and also help to outline a program that may be of some permanent benefit during any period of depression."

Walter S. Gifford, national relief director, Tuesday was speeding up his activities with a view to completing his organization this week.

Co-operation Urged By Cotton Farmers

Acreage in the Southern States Should Have Been Reduced This Year

The present agitation for reduction of cotton acreage by law calls to mind the advice given us by the Federal Farm Board last year, declared Henry H. Naff of Portland, Ark., in a recent interview.

The Federal Farm Board last year gave us definite information on the outlook for cotton, and urged a reduction in acreage and while the farm or responded in part we did not get the reduction needed. The present situation emphasizes the need of this pre-season advice from the Federal Farm Board and which is just another one of the many good things that can be derived from the operation of the Agricultural Marketing Act.

Less criticism and more cooperation is the prime need at this time, declared Mr. Naff and when the farmer realizes that he cannot reap the dividends of which he is so proud, and which, in fact, he has never had, that we are going to have real cooperation of the farmers one with another with a consequent betterment of the situation.

Fat Men

I don't care how fat you are or how much you hate to get out and walk a couple of miles. If you will take one half teaspoon of Kruschen Salts in a glass of hot water every morning for 4 weeks and cut out pastries, sugar and fatty meats, you will feel so good—so energetic and the urge for activity will be so great that you will immensely enjoy a daily walk of several miles—and lose fat.

While you are losing fat you will be gaining in energy—in endurance—in ambition. Your skin will sparkle clearer and your eyes will grow with the good health that Kruschen brings.

Just try one 85c bottle of Kruschen Salts; it will last you 4 weeks. After you have taken one bottle the old arm chair won't hold you any more—you'll want to be up and doing—you'll enjoy work—you'll sleep like a top and probably live years longer. Get Kruschen at Bryant's Drug Store or any live druggist in America with the understanding that you must be joyfully satisfied or money back.

W. R. Daniel of Richmond Hill, N. Y., writes: "After 2 bottles of Kruschen, I've removed 3 inches from my belt, feel 25 per cent more active, mind is clearer, eruptions have disappeared. Am 46 years old and feel 20 years younger. I get up feeling 100 per cent. Kruschen sure is great!" Adv.

Holds Senators to 7 Hits and Athletics Beat Second Place Club

Lefty Grove moved nearer his goal of 30 pitching victories this season when he defeated Washington Tuesday, 10 to 1, for his 28th win, against 3 defeats.

Grove limited the Senators to seven hits. Sad Sam Jones, in the box for Walter Johnson's men, was pretty good himself until the seventh inning when the House of Mack fell for eight runs. He was replaced by Fischer.

The Cleveland Indians made it eight straight, and won their third consecutive double-header, taking both ends of a twin bill against Chicago, 9-7 and 6-3. The St. Louis Browns beat Detroit 3-2.

In the National League, the Giants closed the season of home play at the Polo Grounds, by splitting a double-header with the Phillies. Phil Collins pitched the visitors to a 3-1 victory in the opening game, while the New York club took the second, 4-3.

At Pittsburgh, Bill Harris, a Texas League recruit, made his bow with the Pirates, holding Cincinnati to five hits and giving the Pittsburgh club its seventh straight victory, 3-0. Brooklyn close dits series with the Boston Braves by winning 10-6, for a clean sweep.

With the starting of school many other prospects will report for practice, but with the present squad, Wilkin is optimistic of a good season.

The first game will be with Ashdown, Friday, September 25. The next will be October 2 with Waldo, here, and the next, October 9, will be the first game away from home—at Camden.

BEGIN HERE TODAY. Pretty NORMA KENT, 20-year-old secretary in a law office, and her MARK TRAYERS, son of F. M. TRAYERS, millionaire real estate dealer, after the father has sworn to get Mark out of town on a penny if the marriage takes place. Norma has a beautiful face, a fine figure, and a million-dollar dowry.

The story opens in Starbore, middle western metropolis. CHRISTINE SANDERS, with whom Norma shares an apartment, and BRADLEY HART, Chris' employer, are witnesses at the wedding. Before this Norma has refused to marry BOB FARR, a young lawyer of whom she is fond as a friend.

Mark sells his expensive car to get money for the honeymoon. He and Norma go to fashionable Blue Springs, where he meets his bride with expensive luxuries. He introduces her to HOLLY STONE, an old friend, and it is evident from the girl's discomposure that she has known Stone before. For some reason she shied from him, and it is evident from the girl's discomposure that she has known Stone before.

Mark's face looked that he seemed scarcely to comprehend her words. "The old skink!" Mark was muttering. "The damned, miserly old cockroach! I'll get even for this—I'll show him if it's the last thing I do! He'll be sorry for this!"

"Tell me what's happened, Mark."

For the first time the young man seemed aware of what she was saying.

"You shouldn't be out here, Norma," he told her. "It's cold. Look—you're shivering. You should have come out here with a wrap."

"But I didn't know where you were. What is it, Mark? Is the telegram—I mean didn't the money come?"

Swiftly, in half a dozen quick motions, Mark had torn the sheet of paper into bits. He flung them to the breeze. There were hard, ugly lines about his lips as he said, "So much for F. M. Travers and his lousy millions! I wish I knew how he got hold of that telegram I sent to Mother!"

His expression told the story. An arbitrary refusal of a loan from his father. Probably insulting references to the last meeting between Travers and his son. Blatant "I told you so's." No wonder Mark's countenance was stormy.

Norma sought his arm. Fearfully, sympathetically she raised her eyes to his.

"It doesn't matter," the girl said softly. "We'll find some other way, darling. We—we've each other!"

He was not listening. A sharp wind caught the fragile drapery of her bodice, barring her arm.

"Here," Mark said roughly, "you can't stay outside any longer. You've got to get indoors!"

He half-led, half-pulled her up the steps and through the entrance of the inn. A mirror showed how tangled and disarranged her hair had become. The girl caught the reflection and drew back.

"I can't go into the dining room," she told him, "looking like this! I'll have to go upstairs and fix my hair. Will you wait here? It won't take five minutes."

Instead Mark said he would come with her. They crossed the lobby, and ascended to their rooms. Once there Mark slumped to a chair and sat staring at the door. Norma glanced at him, decided against in-

Jots Around Shover

The general complaint now, seems to be hot weather.

Of all the busy times of the year, from observations, this must be the busiest. Cotton and pea picking, gardening, syrup making, and hauling watermelons, road working, and hay making, besides the remnant of canning yet to be done, and many other everyday odd jobs too numerous to mention, give not time to play, but work all day, and yet for all these we should be thankful!

"My sweetheart smokes 'em . . ."

"NOW, you know, Bob was raised in a tobacco country. He has worked in two cigarette factories; and I have heard him say all of them are just the same. He says there are a lot of pipes and things like that running through the roofs of the factories and sometimes they look different, but that the way cigarettes are made is all the same.

"Bob says all tobaccos receive the same sort of drying—heat treatment, he called it. In one factory, he says, they may talk about 'baking' the tobaccos and in another they call it another name. He says what they actually do is to 'dry' the tobaccos—reduce the moisture in them—and that the machine that they all use is called a 'Dryer.'

"But when it comes to the quality of tobacco, that's quite a different story, so Bob says; some factories use mild, ripe tobacco, while others think that thick heavy tobacco is good enough. Bob knows tobacco and he tells me that it takes good tobacco—mild and ripe—to make a cigarette as good as CHESTERFIELD.

"You know how it is when a piece of fruit tastes just right—not raw or sharp or too ripe or tasteless—just pleasing and satisfying. Well, that's the way it is with CHESTERFIELD—they just suit me right down to the ground—they satisfy."

— And HIS sweetheart smokes 'em too!
